Location

Sited between the Elb suburbs and downtown Hamburg, Fast Lane's Hamburg training center is housed in a historical monument, an elaborately restored industrial plant in Otto von Bahrenpark.

The S-Bahn (interurban train) station Bahrenfeld is nearby.

It's about 13 km to the airport. The trip takes about 25 min. by cab, the recommended means of transport.

Directions

By car

- Approaching from the south (A7 Hannover)

Pass through the Elbtunnel and exit the A7 at the HH-Othmarschen junction (no. 29). Turn right into Behringstrasse, staying on it for about 1.5 km. Turn left into Hohenzollernring, staying on it until you reach a train underpass. Immediately after it, turn left into Gasstraße. After about 100 meters, you'll come to the access road to Otto von Bahrenpark on the right.

- Approaching from the north (A7 Flensburg)

Exit the A7 at the HH-Bahrenfeld (no. 28) junction and turn left into Von-Sauer-Strasse. Cross the motorway bridge and follow Von Sauer-Strasse until it turns into Bahrenfelder Chaussee. After about 600 meters, turn right onto Bahrenfelder Steindamm, and then after about 100 meters, turn right onto Daimlerstrasse. Stay on this road until you reach Gasstrasse and turn right into it. After about 100 meters, you'll come to the access road to Otto von Bahrenpark on the right.

- From Fuhlsbüttel airport

Take the S1 train towards Blankenese / Wedel and after 17 stations (approximately 45 min.) exit at Bahrenfeld station.

Take the center exit to leave Bahrenfeld station. Turn right into Hegerstrasse, and when it ends, turn left into Bahrenfelder Kirchenweg. The first street on the right is Gasstraße.

Please note that only a limited amount of parking spaces is available. We therefore recommend the use of public transport (which is reachable within a 5-minute walk).
